Bennett seeks third term as Bay mayor

Bay St. Louis Mayor Larry Bennett announced Friday he is seeking a third term as mayor in the upcoming city elections.

"In the last eight years I have worked very hard for everyone in Bay St. Louis and my accomplishments have been achieved with the people I represent at heart," Bennett said.

LARRY BENNETT

Bennett said in the past several years, the city has progressed tremendously and without the turmoil of a growing city.

"Not everyone has always agreed with my decisions and that's how it should be, but I have strived to make the administration of my duties unbiased and fair," he added.

A native of Bay St. Louis, Bennett is a life-long resident of the city.

Bennett, his wife Joan and their four children attend Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church.

He has served on the Governor's Coastal Water Advisory Council, the Coastal Energy Fund Allocation Commission and the State Municipal Advisory Commission.

Bennett is a past president of the Gulf Coast Municipal Association and a former member of the Governor's Employment Commission.

Currently he serves on the board for the South Mississippi Planning and Development Commission, the Waveland Regional Wastewater Authority and the executive committee for the Harrison-Hancock Sandbeach Improvement Project.

"Bay St. Louis has come a very long way and with a continuing realistic attitude, I will be a mayor for all of the people, all of the time," Bennett concluded.

Maurice Singleton announces candidacy

Maurice E. Singleton of 450 Easterbrook St., Bay St. Louis has announced his candidacy for the Ward 3 councilman seat in the May 14 Democratic primary.

Singleton is a life time resident of Bay St. Louis and a member of St. Rose de Lima Catholic Church.

He attended St. Rose High School and graduated from Randolph High School in Pass Christian.

He is a veteran of World War II, having served in Europe for 32 months.

Singleton is currently president of Veteran Civic Organization, deputy grand knight of the Knights of Peter Claver Council No. 6 and member of Bon Noir Amis Carnival Club.

He is a St. Rose Parish Council member and serves on the board of directors of the Gulf Coast Community Action Agency.

He is a Concerned Citizens member.

He is a former member of the Bay St. Louis School Board.

Singleton and his wife, George, have 11 children, two of whom are still dependents.

MAURICE SINGLETON

"New ideas with the people and community in mind should be a good combination going into the race," Singleton stated.

NEW SERIES—Hodding Carter III is host of "Capitol Journal," a new series scheduled to air at 5 p.m., Sundays, beginning March 31, on Mississippi ETV.

Hargrove to speak

Sue Hargrove, director of Academic Affairs at Phillips College of Gulfport, will be the guest speaker at the Wednesday, Mar. 27 noon luncheon-meeting of the Gulf Coast Chapter of the Mississippi Association of Public Accountants.

Ms. Hargrove's topic will be "Office Management and Organization for the Public Accounting Practice."

The meeting will be at the Gulfporter Room, Airport Holiday Inn, Hwy. 49 in Gulfport.

Joe Fountain, president, urges all public accountants and interested persons to attend.

Reservations may be made by phoning 864-3333.

SPY CASE

"American Playhouse" presents an encore of its four-part mini-series "Concealed Enemies," based on the Whittaker Chambers/Alger Hiss "spy case."

Parts one and two can be seen at 9 p.m., Monday, Apr. 1 on Mississippi ETV. Parts three and four will be telecast on Apr. 8.

The story focuses on the three, highly complex persons who were the major protagonists in the drama: Whittaker Chambers (John Harkins), the portly ex-Communist, a senior editor at Time Magazine, the accuser; Alger Hiss (Edward Herrmann), the Ivy League-educated scholar and longtime government servant, the accused; and Richard M. Nixon (Peter Riegert), the ambitious young congressman from California, a member of the controversial, but powerful, House Committee on Un-American Activities, who staked his career on his belief that Alger Hiss had been a spy for the Soviet Union during the years leading up to World War II.

Alger Hiss denied every charge, and, instead of taking the Fifth Amendment, he chose to go before the House Committee on Un-American Activities, a Grand Jury and then a New York District Court. In the end, he was convicted of two counts of perjury by the District Court and sent to prison.

CARD OF THANKS

First, I would like to express my thanks to my mother, Mrs. Violette Bradford, for being such an excellent campaign manager in both my elections (Mar. 2 and Mar. 16).

Without her untiring efforts, many of the 336 wonderful people who voted for me in those two elections would not have known about my bid for the school board seat.

Special thanks, also, to my daughters Sharon and Jan who stood by my mother and me during both elections to thank our friends for taking the time and trouble to come out to vote.

The Sea Coast Echo and the Sun/Herald newspapers deserve thanks for their fine coverage; also all the poll workers who donated their time and energy working with the chairperson, Mr. Joe Colson to register the record-breaking turnout of voters.

It is my sincere hope that the teachers and children of the school district know that they will always have my continued support and friendship whenever needed.

Deadline nears for candidates in May election

By ELLIS CUEVAS

Only eight candidates have officially qualified with the Bay St. Louis City Clerk's office for the May 14 primary election.

Deadline for party candidates is 4 p.m., April 12, and 4 p.m. April 5 for independents, according to Ann Fine, deputy clerk.

All eight candidates have qualified as Democrats, Fine said.

The only incumbent to qualify thus far is Councilman-at-Large Wilmer Seymour.

Those qualified with the city clerk as of Friday afternoon include:

For Mayor—Victor J. Frankiewicz Jr. and Kelvin J. Schultz.

For Councilman-at-Large—Wilmer E. Seymour, incumbent.

For Ward One Councilman—Lisa LeBon Coward and Charles F. Heitkamp.

For Ward Two Councilmen—Edward Joseph Marengo.

For Ward Three Councilman—Charles E. Johnson and Maurice E. Singleton Sr.

For Ward Four Councilman—none.

A run-off, if necessary following the primary elections, will be held on May 21, Fine stated.

"Independent candidates need to submit a petition with the signatures of 50 qualified electors from the district being sought in order to qualify," Fine said.

Mayor Larry Bennett is announcing in today's issue of The Sea Coast Echo he is seeking re-election, and Ward One Councilman Gary Griffin made a newspaper announcement recently that he would be seeking re-election.

Harry Farve, Ward Three Councilman for two terms, said last week that he would not seek re-election.

The General Election will be held on June 4.

Residents not registered have until 30 days before the elections to register in order to vote, Fine reported.

Registration can be either at the Hancock County Courthouse or Bay City Clerk's Office.

ETV Brief

PASSOVER

Mississippi ETV's award-winning production "Passover," hosted by Edward Asner, will be rebroadcast this year at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, Apr. 2 on the statewide network.

Passover begins this year on Apr. 6. "Passover" details the history, practice and significance of Passover, celebrated each spring by Jews in remembrance of the Exodus, led by Moses, from Egypt into Israel more than 3,000 years ago. The beginning of Passover is observed at the seder, a home service centered around a special meal.

An American seder is the program's focal point. Also filmed were seders practiced by several Israeli families, and the scene of another well-known Jewish seder is included: the Upper Room where Jesus and the 12 apostles participated in the Last Supper.

Other sequences shot on location in Israel show art from several rare, historical Haggadahs (Passover prayer books); an Israeli dance troupe; and several geographical locations that pertain to the Passover story: the Sinai Desert, Jericho and the Western Wall, the last remaining wall of the Second Temple.

Bay geologist Dawn Lavoie begins ocean drilling cruise

A geologist at the Naval Ocean Research and Development Activity (NORDA) at National Space Technology Laboratories is aboard the SEDCO/BP 471, an ocean drilling ship, as part of the first leg of the new Ocean Drilling Program.

Dawn Lavoie of Bay St. Louis is a member of the scientific staff aboard the ship (also known as the Joides Resolution) operating between Fort Lauderdale, Fla. and the Bahamas from Jan. 28 to March 4.

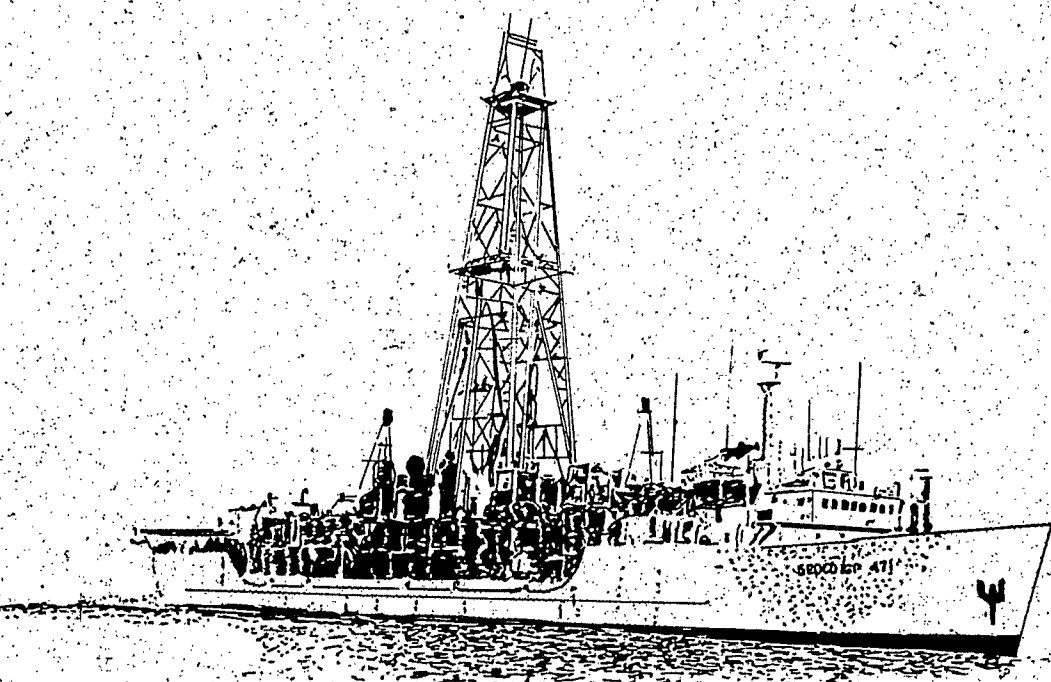

mospheric Science at the University of Miami in Miami, Fla.

On this first ODP cruise, the ship is drilling seven sites in the Bahamas region; a transect of three sites across Little Bahama Bank to investigate the development of accretionary carbonate slope; a deep hole in the Straits of Florida to test theories regarding the origin of the present configuration of the Bahamas Platform; and finally, a three site transect across Exuma

ODP and selects the scientists for the shipboard scientific contingency.

This study will provide NORDA with additional data base on carbonate sediments geacoustic properties which will tie directly to the ongoing bottom interaction program conducted by NORDA's Seafloor Geosciences Division.

Lavoie's onboard measurements will include bulk density, using a Gamma Ray Attenuation Porosity SEDCO/BP 471, a 16,600 ton drillship has been modified for a 30,000 ft. drillstring. Its six-story, 12,000 square foot laboratory can be staffed by up to 50 scientists.

The Ocean Drilling Program (ODP) is an international partnership of scientists and governments who have joined together to explore the structure and history of the earth beneath the ocean basins. ODP is the successor to the Deep Sea Drilling Project, operated by Scripps Institution, which used the Glomar Challenger as its platform for exploration.

Chief scientists for the first cruise are Dr. James A. Austin Jr. of the Institute for Geophysics at the University of Texas in Austin, Tex. and Dr. Wolfgang Schlager of the Rosenstiel School of Marine and At-Sound to examine a bypass carbonate slope and associated basin fill.

The shipboard physical properties program is aimed at monitoring downhole variations in velocity and wet-bulk density in order to correlate drilling results with the reflection profiles, and to establish a data base of properties of carbonate sediment and rocks.

As the new science operator for the present program, Texas A&M University at College Station, Tex. provides science direction to the Evaluator; vane shear strength; thermal conductivity; compressional wave velocity and shear wave velocity.

The NORDA geologist will return with samples for consolidation and triaxial testing. Results of this work will be published in the first two volumes of the Ocean Drilling Program.

The first volume will include the site surveys and data obtained from onboard sample analyses. The second volume will contain syntheses written by onboard scientists, as well as other scientists using ODP samples.

The deadline for filing for Homestead Exemption is April 1, which is only a few days from now. In a conversation Thursday, Hancock County Tax Assessor Eddie Murtagh reported there are some 400 home owners who have not filed as yet for Homestead Exemption.

It can mean a tremendous difference in the amount of taxes a qualified home owner pays if he fails to file for Homestead Exemption before April 1.

Persons needing assistance or information regarding the filing of Homestead Exemption may call the assessor's office at 467-5727.

The Bay-Waveland Annual Spring Pilgrimage is scheduled for Thursday, March 28, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Last Wednesday the National Space Technology Laboratories and the Hancock County Welcome Center began the festivities. Diamondhead's tour was Friday.

We know a lot of preparations have been made for the pilgrimages and are hoping many local residents will take advantage of the tours on Thursday in the Bay-Waveland area.

Activities will begin at the Bay-Waveland Garden Club's home on Leonhard Avenue at 10 a.m.

There will be numerous directional markers for the many places of interest to be visited.

So, don't forget the Pilgrimage next Thursday.

We took a quick tour of the soon-to-be Hancock County Tax Assessor-Collector's building on Main Street on Thursday.

It sure will be good to have all of the operations dealing with property under one roof.

The tax collecting, assessing, and appraisal offices will all be at one location.

The moving of those offices from the courthouse and county home behind the hospital will also give relief to other offices. The county chancery and circuit court clerks sure will welcome the additional space.

Even in today's modern technology there is a tremendous amount of space needed for the retention of records.

The construction of counters for the assessor-tax collector's office are underway.

We know everyone will be happy when the modifications are completed.

The Bay-Waveland Club will be offering crepe myrtle trees for 50 cents each from the Garden Center on Leonard Avenue, Bay St. Louis April 1 and 2.

This is part a project of the Garden Club according to Alice Newkirk, president, in which an effort is being made to have at least one crepe myrtle tree on each lot in our community.

Monies to purchase the crepe myrtle trees was from the recent Antique Auction sponsored by the garden club.

The trees are in one gallon containers and 250 are available, as they were purchased from Adams' Lorraine Flower Shop at cost as part of a Hancock County 'Operation Crepe Myrtle' Beautification Project.

John Adams, chairman, 'Operation Crepe Myrtle' of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce Beautification Committee, reports efforts will be made next year to provide many more trees.

This year there will be a limit of three crepe myrtles per family and the 50 cents each is a handling charge.

Lee Taylor, Hancock County Agent will be available at the Garden Club Center to answer any questions in regards to planting during the distribution of the trees.

The Hancock County Chamber of Commerce's Morning Edition will be Thursday at the Wheel Inn Restaurant starting at 7:30 a.m.

An interesting program is on tap about the Mississippi Railway and Transportation Museum which is located at Port Bienville in Hancock County.

The organization operates a train with an old fashioned steam engine and passenger cars.

We are hoping many will attend this meeting. Sponsors for the Morning Edition are Cathy Ladner and Garland Belote, State Farm Insurance representatives.

George Paul's piece on the Fourth Amendment commended

March 19, 1985

Dear Sir:

This letter is a bit late in coming to you, being in reference to The Sea Coast Echo of Feb. 28 —George Paul's essay on the Fourth Amendment.

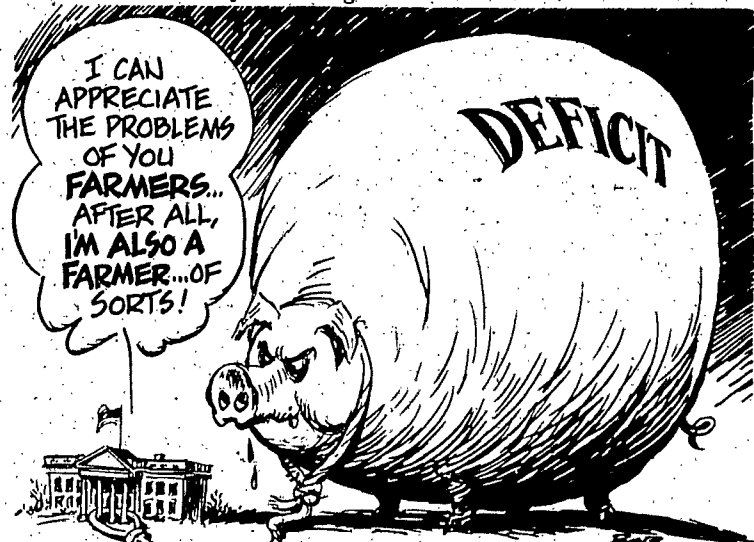

a) Since it was written by a young man in this community perhaps his friends will read it and talk a bit about its contents.

b) It seems to convey something about the school system and what can appear in that student paper, commendations in order.

Considering the complexity of this very grave matter for society and individuals the more exposure of it the better.

Weekly Summary

from

Mississippi House of Representatives

By Andrew Rerese

House Information Officer

With the lengthy fight over raising teachers' salaries finally over, members of the Mississippi House of Representatives are working to conclude other legislative chores and put the final touches on a general fund budget expected to exceed $1.5 billion.

Mississippi school teachers will receive increases totaling $4,400 per year in base salaries over a three-year period under the compromise bill approved by the House and Senate. The legislation became law last week when both chambers voted overwhelmingly to override Gov. Bill Allain's veto of the historic measure.

Officials in the State Department of Education said the 1985 Act will boost average teachers' salaries in Mississippi from $15,923 this year to $18,474 in the 1985-86 school year, an increase of about 16 percent. This includes increment payments to experienced teachers as well as local supplements.

While the increase is less than teacher organizations wanted, it is the largest pay raise for teachers in state history and more than some lawmakers had predicted would ever be approved.

The bill calls for an increase of $2,400 in base salaries in 1985-86, another increase of $1,000 in 1986-87, and an additional $1,000 in 1987-88 tied to a performance-based compensation plan to be developed by the State Board of Education. All subsequent raises also would be tied to the performance-based pay plan.

The bill also contains strong anti-strike provisions which apply to both teachers and other public employees, and a "grab-bag" revenue package totaling $77.6 million with new or increased taxes on such items as cigarettes, beer, liquor, soft drinks, computer software, manufacturing machinery, construction contracts, and private automobile sales.

Teachers' pay has been a dominant issue since the 1985 legislative session started in January. Even before the session began, the joint Legislative Budget Committee recommended money be provided to grant salary hikes "to the greatest extent possible" for teachers and employees of the state's universities and junior colleges.

The final bill was the product of long hours of negotiations, debate, meetings between House and Senate conferees, and rigorous soul-searching. There were sharp differences among House members on various aspects of the legislation including the no-strike language, omission of health insurance, amount of tax increases, and other items.

Such side-issues as school consolidation and increased funding for the Chickasaw Cession School Fund in north Mississippi were indirect factors during consideration of the legislation.

And throughout the process, legislators found themselves torn between a desire to do as much as possible for teachers and a concern over adding to the burden on Mississippi taxpayers.

The Mississippi House also completed work last week on a proposed constitutional amendment to create a special trust fund for improvement of education in the state.

The resolution initially was approved in February by the House but some modifications were made by the Senate in the proposal. House members voted 116-4 to concur in the revisions, clearing the way for a statewide referendum next year on the legislation.

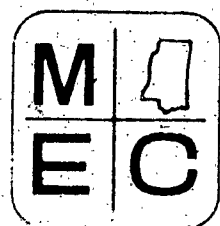

Another bill that won final approval last week would raise Mississippi's legal drinking age from 18 to 21 for beer and light wine, effective in October, 1986.

Originally, the bill called for the change to go into effect this summer but the Senate agreed to concur in a House amendment that makes the change coincide with a new federal drinking-age law. State law already prohibits the sale of liquor to anyone under 21 but the age limit on beer and light wine is now 18.

In other action, the Mississippi House approved a revised version of a Senate-passed bill to permit refunding of state highway bonds, a procedure that backers believe could mean a windfall of several million dollars for the state.

Representatives also voted to authorize up to $100 million in revenue bonds by the Mississippi Certified Development Company to help small businesses; approved $12 million in bonds if needed to help build a causeway to a proposed Navy port facility near Pascagoula (the bonds would not be issued unless Pascagoula is selected for the facility); authorized borrowing by municipalities and counties through issuance of negotiable notes within specified limits; and sent a massive stack of appropriations bills to House-Senate conference committees to resolve differences and recommend funding within available revenues.

Rep. Alyce Clarke of Jackson was sworn in last week to replace former Rep. Fred Banks who resigned in February to become a Hinds County Circuit Court judge. Mrs. Clarke, the first black woman ever elected to the Mississippi Legislature, received a standing ovation from her colleagues.

WHO IS MAE REPRESENTING?

Mississippi's disruptive teachers' strike is behind us now and classrooms are returning to normal. The teachers have a $4,400 pay increase and the state has a strong anti-strike statute now, which should discourage public employee strikes in the future.

Out of the drama of the teachers' strike, the picketing, the courtroom confrontations, and the decisions made by teachers who remained at their posts comes a question which Mississippi's teachers and the general public will want to answer for themselves.

The question: Who does the Mississippi Association of Educators (MAE) really represent? These facts should be considered in searching for the answer:

—1. MAE claims a membership of some 13,000 teachers, about 50 percent of the state's total public school teacher corps. Of the state total of about 26,000 teachers, only about one-third went out on strike. Two-thirds of the state's teachers did not strike.

—2. The MAE violated a court order prohibiting a call for a statewide strike. The organization called for a statewide strike even though the court had prohibited strikes in 15 districts. Would one-third of Mississippi's teachers support violation of a court order? Would one-third of Mississippi's school teachers teach their students that violation of a court order is acceptable behavior?

—3. After the Legislature had approved the $4,400 pay package for teachers, MAE announced its opposition to the proposal, indicating the organization was willing to give up the pay increase for its teacher members in order to carry on the effort to remove the anti-strike language from the bill.

MAE later changed its position on the pay raise, apparently after its members strongly objected to the stand taken by the MAE leadership.

The question to be answered: Does MAE represent Mississippi's professional public school teachers, or is the organization but another public employee union, disrespectful of the court and willing to abandon the cause of its members—in this case, a pay increase—in exchange for the chance to continue to disrupt classrooms and communities, all in the name of a few more union members?

Research lab identifies mystery fish washed ashore at Biloxi

Staff members at Gulf Coast Research Laboratory's J.L. Scott Marine Education Center in Biloxi were presented with an identification challenge recently when a brilliant blue fish that washed ashore nearby was brought to the center.

Approximately a foot long, the fish was found stranded and barely alive on the beach near the Biloxi lighthouse on March 9. Concerned individuals wrapped the fish in a damp towel and brought it to the MEC in hope of reviving it.

"I cleaned the sand out of the fish's gills and tried to move it through the water in an effort to resuscitate it, but it was too late to save it," said MEC aquarist Robert Westbrook.

GCRL ichthyologist Dr. Joanne Shultz, marine biologist-parasitologist Dr. Adrian Lawler and MEC curator Gerald Corcoran conducted identification research and concluded that the fish was a blue parrotfish, a species alien to the Mississippi coastal area.

The blue parrotfish is common in the Bahamas and can be found from the middle Atlantic states to southeastern Brazil, including the Central American coast.

Since the fish is not native to the area, Lawler theorizes that it was released into the Gulf of Mexico by a tropical fish hobbyist. "Maybe the fish outgrew its tank or appeared sick, or possibly the owner was moving," Lawler suggested. "The fish was fat and appeared to be healthy, with no external wound observed."

"Apparently the owner tried to save his pet by releasing it into the Mississippi Sound, but this is a dangerous practice," Lawler continued.

"This type of release can cause temperature-salinity shock which can kill or render a fish helpless for a while. In addition, introduction of non-native fish could present a potential danger to existing species or introduce fish diseases not found in our waters."

Lawler advised people who have freshwater or marine fish that they no longer want to sell them to local pet stores or donate them to the MEC for display or educational purposes. "If fish or other aquatic animals appear to be sick, assistance can be received through the MEC staff which works closely with various agencies, veterinarians and pet stores."

Shultz said that parrotfishes, members of the family Scaridae, are herbivorous tropical fish found almost exclusively in coral reef areas. The fish's parrot-like beak is used to graze algae from rock, dead coral and compacted sand surfaces. In addition to algae, parrotfishes also feed on sea grasses.

Many of the parrotfishes are dichromatic, exhibiting two color phases, according to Shultz. Often the male exhibits a spectacular com-ination of greens, blues and reds, while the female presents more somber hues of green, gray and brown.

"One unusual trait of parrotfishes is that they are protogynous, first exhibiting female and later male characteristics," Shultz pointed out. "The fish we examined was in the terminal male phase of its life cycle."

Maximum size for this species is said to be four feet. The fish has been donated to the GCRL museum on the Ocean Springs campus.

Gerwin Henn, owner of a Biloxi pet center which specializes in tropical fish, said that parrotfishes are special order fish which are caught in the wild, rather than raised commercially. Price would vary depending on availability and seasonal conditions. He said he had never had a request to order a blue parrotfish and had never seen one in a tropical aquarium, but that other varieties, such as bicolor and princess parrotfishes, were readily available from his suppliers.

BLUE PARROTFISH—Gulf Coast Research Laboratory ichthyologist Dr. Joanne Shultz and marine biologist-parasitologist Dr. Adrian Lawler conduct identification research of an unusual fish brought to GCRL's J.L. Scott Marine Education Center in Biloxi.

County Agent's Notes

CHECK WINTER DAMAGE

Plants in the home landscape in many parts of Mississippi no doubt took a licking from the subfreezing temperatures of January and February. Plants we consider to have borderline hardiness against the cold have suffered freeze damage.

These plants include azaleas, ligustrum, pittosporum, sweet olive, evergreen viburnum and banana shrub. Hardy species such as hollies, nandinas and euonymus have foliage burn caused by freezing and drying.

In both cases the degree of injury depends on three factors, including the area of the state, the health of the plant prior to winter and exposure in the landscape.

Homeowners should follow the following recommendations to assess damage to landscape plants and to groom for spring:

—Look for split bark caused by freezing;

—Scratch thin bark with the thumbnail or a knife. Look at the color of the tissue underneath the bark. If it is brown, gray, black or dark olive green, freeze damage has occurred and the tissue may be dead;

—Brown foliage is dead and will fall off. If stem tissue is green with no split bark, new foliage can be expected in the spring; and —Wait until the plant has had time to green up in the spring before doing any pruning.

GARDEN PLANNING NOW

Mississippians who intend to have a home vegetable garden this year must get serious about planning for that garden now. For the Good Friday planters, the date this year is April 5.

Soil temperature is an important factor for success for those who plant warm-season vegetables like southern peas, beans tomatoes, peppers, eggplant and vine crops. These vegetables won't tolerate cold, wet soils. The soil-temperature should not drop below 60 degrees Fahrenheit for several nights running before these crops are planted.

Black plastic mulch can be effective in helping to raise soil temperature. Prepare the soil, fertilize it, lay down the plastic mulch, wait a few days and plant. Seeds germinate faster in soil mulched with black plastic and vegetable transplants get off to a much better start.

Give those home-grown vegetable transplants special care before and after you plant them in the garden. Toughen the plants by exposing them to cooler temperatures and by withholding water, but don't let them wilt severely. Protect early set transplants with milkshake cups, tomato cages wrapped with clear plastic or plastic gallon milk jugs.

When buying vegetable transplants, get recommended varieties of plants that are fresh in appearance and do not have yellowing, wilted or spotted leaves. Remember, plants that look old and tough are and they may never recover enough vigor to be productive in the garden.

"WE TAKE PRIDE IN YOUR HOME!"

Is an IRA right for you?

As April 15th gets closer, more and more people are talking about Individual Retirement Accounts. The tax break you get. The retirement income you can count on.

So, we'd like to help you decide if an IRA's right for you, by answering some of the most frequently asked questions about IRAs.

"Can I still get a break on '84 taxes?"

Yes. You've got until April 15th to open an IRA and apply the tax savings to your 1984 return.

But don't wait past April 15th. Even if the IRS gives you an extension for your return. That's a firm deadline this year.

"Don't you need $2,000?"

If you work, you can start an IRA at Hancock Bank with as little as $5.00. Then, just put in what you want, when you want.

You don't have to contribute every month, or even every year. But your money keeps on working for you, earning interest.

The money you put in is not taxable until you take it out. Even the interest is sheltered.

"How much can I put away?"

If you're employed, you can put up to $2,000 in your IRA. $2,000 each for working couples. Or, a $2,250 combined total for a couple if only one of you is employed.

If you deposit at least $2,000, you're eligible for your choice of 18-month or 30-month fixed-interest rates. Amounts less than $2,000 earn money-market rates that change monthly. When your IRA builds up to $2,000, we'll be happy to lock in a fixed rate for you. It's usually higher.

"Do you have to itemize?"

No. You can use a regular 1040 tax form and still get credit for your IRA contribution. It comes right off the top of your taxable income.

"When can I get my money?"

You can start taking money out of your IRA at age 59½. Of course, it's your money, and you can take it out any time you want. But the federal government imposes a 10% penalty for withdrawal before 59½. And if your money is in a fixed-rate time deposit, there may be an additional penalty.

So, think of your IRA as a long-term investment for retirement. Not a temporary tax shelter or savings for emergencies.

When you reach 59½, you can get your IRA in one lump sum, or set up a regular monthly income. Or, if you choose, you can wait until 70½ to start receiving payments.

"I only have a little to put in now. Would I have much by retirement?"

Let's say you're 30 years old, and in the 29% tax bracket. Look at how $50.00 a month would add up:

Estimated value at age 65: (based on 10% interest)
TOTAL DEPOSIT OVER 35 YEARS	$21,000.00
TAX SAVINGS	6,090.00
TOTAL INVESTMENT	14,910.00
ESTIMATED IRA VALUE	172,252.00
ESTIMATED MONTHLY PAYMENT FOR 15 YEARS	2,027.00
TOTAL RETURN	$364,858.00

"Can I really open my IRA over the phone?"

Yes. Just call Hancock Bank and ask for Mae Beth Tracy. She'll quote you our current rates. Explain our new self-directed IRAs.

She'll even fill out your application form for you while you're on the phone, and then mail it to you. So all you have to do is sign it at home and send it in with your first deposit.

Do you have a question?

If you've got a question about something we didn't cover here, please give us a call.

Our IRA Hotline is open Monday through Friday, from 8:00 a.m. until 5:00 p.m.

Mae Beth will be happy to answer any question you might have about IRAs. Big or small. At no obligation to you.

WHY FARMING IS LEADER

If more Mississippians know why horses wear shoes and mules don't, it is simply because of the prominence of agriculture as the leading industry in both the state and nation.

Mississippi's rurality as a distinguishing mark and an asset has gone full circle in the lives and emotions of its population over the past three centuries, and today puts this state in a very enviable lifestyle position among other states of these United States.

From a preference standpoint today, there is an outflowing of population from cities to the country because of an enhanced quality of life along the backroads of this land. This is a big switch from a generation ago when the amenities of electricity, running water, and other city conveniences brought people to town.

The full circle pattern is especially welcome in Mississippi because of this state's natural resources which have long favored agriculture and hold considerable promise for the future.

That agriculture is still the economic leader in this state is verified by the fact that a quarter of our population's total labor force is employed in the food and fiber system generated by agriculture. This means a farm-related payroll of $2.84 billion annually.

Figures compiled by the Mississippi Employment Security Commission analyzed by the economists of the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service point out that these farm generated earnings make available $2.84 billion that can be spent on consumer goods and services within the state and nation, while sales taxes on these expenditures amount to about $141 million in the state's treasury to support services of the state government.

Last year the total value of farm production in Mississippi was about $3.1 billion—an all time high. This state's net farm income, despite low prices for many commodities grown in the state and an uncommonly high cost of production due to inflation, still amounted to about $421 million—the highest income figure since 1979.

Reasons for the upswing in farm income last year included sharp increases in the production volumes of cotton, soybeans, grain sorghum and catfish. Broiler and egg prices were substantially up in the poultry industry. Catfish growers produced more fish and received higher prices.

Essentially all of Mississippi's crops last year produced above average yields. And fortunately, compared with other years, farm production costs rose between three and four percent instead of at a much higher rate.

These farm earnings generated in the rural areas of Mississippi cut a wide-swath through the state while the figures snowball all along the way. The Mississippi Research and Development Center interprets the snowballing effect for agricultural income as more than doubling in size as it rolls through assorted goods and services, usually in adjacent towns and cities.

Using the R&D Center's formula for computing added business activity generated from the farms, Mississippi's $3.1 billion in farm valued products swells to $7.8 billion in the various business channels.

By the same token this farm related business activity generates more funds to support local, state, and national governments.

These figures do not include forestry which show an even greater contribution to the state's economy than any single farm crop—drawing from renewable resources of all 82 counties with the end or near-end products of our state's woods usually manufactured at mills and factories located within the state.

With Mississippi's favorable rainfall, soil, temperature range and other assets, this rural advantage can only grow substantially in the future.

Fund-raising for youth center to begin Monday

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

A fund-raising campaign for the proposed Bay St. Louis Youth Activity Center will begin Monday with a carnival at the Jitney Jungle parking lot.

Bay St. Louis Police Chief Murray Ladner, who is organizing a group to get the activity center project underway, said there is a great deal of public interest and there have already been several calls from interested citizens.

The proposed center will be in a central location in Bay St. Louis and will provide a recreation area for the city's youths.

Ladner said he plans to include a request for an officer to work at the center in the next police department budget.

"It is something we have needed for several years and we are glad we are getting some public interest," Ladner said. "Hopefully it will be more than interest and will become a reality."

Mayor Larry Bennett said he supports the program to the fullest and hopes that sometime in the near future he will be able to go to the city council and get some funds to help the project.

Ladner said a meeting is scheduled Tuesday for committee members including Pat Harvill, Gary Griffin, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Smith, Sheriff Ronald Peterson, Percy McKay and Mr. and Mrs. Willie Acker.

CHARLES BARRIX JR.

Michoud promotes Barrix, Short

Martin Marietta's Michoud Division has announced promotion of Charles Barrix Jr. to director of management information systems and Don A. Short to manager of security.

Barrix joined Martin Marietta at Michoud in July 1983 as manager of computer applications in the MIS department.

He received a bachelor's degree in economics from Indiana University and began a career in finance, accounting and computer programming with several manufacturing companies.

Barrix was born in Hammond, Ind. He resides in Covington, La., with his wife, Barbara, and two of their four sons.

Short joined Martin Marietta in Denver in 1972 as a security guard. He transferred to New Orleans in October 1973. During his career with Martin Marietta, Short has received numerous awards for outstanding service, including the astronaut's Silver Snoopy award and a Certificate of Appreciation from the Defense Investigative Service.

Short also made significant contributions which led to the Michoud Division's acceptance in 1984 of the prestigious Cogswell award for industrial security.

Born in Denver, Short served as a military policeman with the U.S. Army prior to joining Martin Marietta. He and his wife, Roserita, live in New Orleans.

Two arrested Thursday on drug, gun charges

By DENA BISNETTE

Two Jamaican nationals, one a parolee drug violator, have been arrested in Hancock County for possession of marijuana.

State troopers Fred Keel and David Kenney arrested Winston G. Meredith and Wilbert Matthews, both of whom gave Biloxi addresses, after finding about three pounds of marijuana in their vehicle Thursday.

Highway Patrol Investigator T.P. Naylor said Meredith and Matthews were stopped on Interstate-10 Thursday afternoon on a routine speeding violation and were found to be violating concealed weapon laws.

Two handguns allegedly fell out of the vehicle's glove compartment when one of the men opened it after being asked for a driver's license.

Further investigation revealed the marijuana, Naylor said.

Meredith has been charged with possession of marijuana with intent to sell or deliver. He is being held without bond because he is wanted by another state for a parole violation, Naylor said.

Matthews was charged with possession of marijuana and carrying a concealed weapon. Bond had not been set and both were still in the Hancock County Jail Saturday.

Caruthers to head NORDA division

Dr. Jerald W. Caruthers of Long Beach now heads the Numerical Modeling Division at the Naval Ocean Research and Development Activity (NORDA) at National Space Technology Laboratories, following his recent appointment.

Just prior to this appointment, Caruthers served as director of the Geomagnetics Division at the Naval Oceanographic Office (NAVOCEANO). He was head of NORDA's Advanced Sensor and Survey Branch before his tour at NAVOCEANO.

In Numerical Modeling Division at NORDA includes the Acoustic Simulation and Acoustic Application Branches. The division conducts research in numerical techniques and computer modeling of underwater sound propagation, which contributes to the Navy's ability to understand, analyze and predict acoustic processes occurring in the ocean and marine boundary layer.

Following a faculty assignment as Assistant Professor of Oceanography at Texas A&M University, Caruthers became head of the Naval Research and Technology Branch with the Central Intelligence Agency. He later served as a principal scientist with the Radian Corporation, whose home office is in Austin, Tex., before his first tour at NORDA.

JERALD CARUTHERS

A Port Arthur, Tex. native, Caruthers completed both undergraduate and graduate studies at Texas A&M University, earning a BS, MS and PhD in physics. His doctorate was conferred in 1968.

WHAT MAKES A GOOD ARM?

Q: A lender has agreed to make us a mortgage but will only agree to an adjustable rate mortgage. Can you tell me what makes a good adjustable rate mortgage? C.R., Pearl A: Dear C.R.:

The evolution of the adjustable rate mortgage (ARM) has followed a somewhat eventful, if uneven, path in its development. Initially, borrowers did not accept the concept and lenders found it a hard mortgage to sell. However, during the past year the popularity of ARMs rose dramatically as both borrowers and lenders seemed to better understand and accept this new financing technique.

Recently, however, the adjustable rate mortgage has come under renewed scrutiny, both from within the industry as well as from the news media and Congress.

The concerns center on some lenders' questionable use of deep discounted "teaser" rates to attract buyers and also their qualifying of applicants at below-market initial rates. As a consumer you should be aware of such activity by a few lenders and make sure you fully understand what will be required of you prior to accepting an adjustable rate mortgage.

The result of these bargain-priced loans has created "payment shock" for borrowers. Monthly payments on these instruments can jump from below 5 percent to double digits overnight, leaving borrowers to face an unanticipated new level of financial obligation.

Well-designed, and responsibly originated ARMs are not things you should have to fear, but rather the means to make housing more affordable. By the same token, the pricing of ARMs should also enable borrowers to remain in those houses for as long as they choose.

Deal with a lender who has had experience in writing adjustable rate mortgages. In addition, make sure you fully understand the future financial obligations you will incur. Otherwise, you will be unhappy as well as possibly be unable to make your future mortgage payments.

For answers to questions, write Dr. Dennis Tosh, P.O. Box 295, University, MS 39677.

The department would also pay the costs of building and running the CWC, although the city would have to provide a site with utilities.

Longo said the aldermen will set up a meeting with representatives of the Bay St. Louis City Council and the county board of supervisors to discuss making the CWC a joint project.

The next step will be selecting a site and a public hearing date.

In other business, the board heard from David Garcia.

Garcia brought the board photographs of a dumping site behind Waveland Cemetery, some of which showed contractors' vehicles dumping loads of roofing material scraps. Others showed fires in the trash.

Garcia said he lives in the neighborhood behind the dump and said that he and his neighbors have been having difficulties with the smoke from trash fires.

"Several people in that neighborhood have smoke-related allergies and have become ill," he said.

He asked the board to clean up the site, or at least do something about the fires.

"I've brought it to you tonight because I don't feel everyone is familiar with the problem," Garcia explained.

Alderman Herman Yarborough said the board has had a few complaints about the dump, which was originally intended as a site where large trash such as old appliances could be placed until the city could haul them away.

Longo said the city is in the midst of a clean-up program now and said the dump would become one of the program projects.

Mississippi Railway Museum Chamber Morning Edition topic

Mississippi Railway and Transportation Museum members will present the program for the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce's Morning Edition Coffee, scheduled for Thursday, March 28, at 7:30 a.m. at Scafield's Wheel Inn Restaurant, Bay St. Louis.

Museum representatives attending will include Georgia Cannon of Hattiesburg; John Floyd, vice-president, Gulfport; and William Pettet Jr., attorney, Gulfport.

In December 1982, the Mississippi Railway and Transportation Museum incorporated as a non-profit organization in the State of Mississippi.

The goal of the newly organized group was to provide a unique museum where people could come and actually ride behind, and experience, the thrills of an operable steam locomotive. Passengers could step into the past as they participated in excursions in authentically restored equipment. Membership has gradually grown to 200, with no paid workers, and all work is done by volunteer members.

The Mississippi Railway and Transportation Museum is located at Port Bienville Industrial Park in Pearlinton. They are an operable museum, and you may board the actual passenger cars that rode the rails in days gone by for a 45-minute journey through miles of open country and Mississippi woods.

All chamber members and their guests are encouraged to attend this informative meeting and learn about one of our newest attractions. This month's sponsors will be Cathy Ladner and Garland Belote, State Farm Insurance representatives of Waveland and Bay St. Louis, respectively.

TOUR MAP—Tour stops on the Bay-Waveland Garden Club segment of the 1985 Mississippi Coast Council of Garden Clubs 38th annual Spring Pilgrimage are indicated. No. 6, home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Diboll, 304 Carroll Ave., Bay St. Louis has been deleted from the tour. Nos. 3 and 7, Bay St. Louis Little Theatre and Antique Arcade, respectively, both in Bay St. Louis, are unofficial locations which are independently hosting visitors on the same day as the Pilgrimage.

PILGRIMAGE HEADQUARTERS—Bay-Waveland Garden Center, 114 Leonhard Ave., Bay St. Louis will welcome participants in the 38th annual Mississippi Coast Council of Garden Clubs Spring Pilgrimage sponsored locally by the Bay-Waveland Garden Club Thursday. Coffee will be served at the center from 10 a.m. to noon and hostesses will provide Pilgrimage brochures and maps. Tour participants should make the Garden Center their first stop. On display at the center will be paintings of birds and flowers, Biloxi schooners, shrimp boats and other Gulf scenes by artist Nadime Stamm, owner of Nadie Arts Gallery in Bay St. Louis, as well as original soft sculpture, stitchery and stenciling by Penny Rizan. (Photo by Barbara Pursley)

PILGRIMAGE LUNCHEON—Bay-Waveland Yacht Club Ladies Auxiliary will prepare and serve lunch to participants in the 1985 Spring Pilgrimage sponsored by the Bay-Waveland Garden Club Thursday. Reservations are required for lunch which will be served from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. A $7 per plate cost must be prepaid. Checks may be mailed to the yacht club, P. O. Box 367, Bay St. Louis, 39520. The tour is sanctioned by the Mississippi Coast Council of Garden Clubs. (Photo by Barbara Pursley)

THEATRE OPEN HOUSE—The Bay St. Louis Little Theatre, Red Barn playhouse on Boardman Avenue, is undergoing an interior and exterior facelift prior to a Thursday open house to introduce the theatre to the community and to accommodate visitors on the Bay-Waveland Garden Club Pilgrimage. Highlight of the open house will be "A Woman and Her Art." This exhibit reflects the art work of local female artists and includes oil painting, quilt making, wood working, sculpture, pottery, doll making, photography, needlepoint and weaving. According to Michael Cuevas, open house chairman, "This is the first extensive exhibit of local art work arranged by our theatre group and we're very proud to present these artists to the public. The theatre plans to take a more active interest in promoting more than theatre arts to the community. The theatre hopes to have a second exhibit in the fall." The day-long open house will also include a theatre memorabilia exhibit, a continuous slide show of past productions, a tour of backstage facilities, the 1985 Season display, and two staged readings. There will also be a preview of crafts to be available at the Little Theatre spring market planned Saturday. (Photo by Barbara Pursley)

SUNDAY, MARCH 24, 1985-1B

Clubs, Auxiliaries

Bay-Waveland Garden Club

The Bay-Waveland Garden Club met March 14 at the Garden Center. "If I Had My Life to Live Over" was read by Mrs. Julian Lorenzen as the devotional. The rubber plant was the subject for the horticulture report by Mrs. N.L. Snider. Mrs. Thomas Murphree reported that the Spring Flower Show will be presented at the Garden Center on Thursday, April 4, from 1 until 5 p.m. The public is invited to view the show. The Garden of the Month award in Bay St. Louis was awarded to Mrs. Rene' de Montluzin of 113 de Montluzin Avenue; and in Waveland to Mr. and Mrs. Chicco in Idlewood Subdivision. Mrs. John Holmes discussed techniques involved in participating in a flower show. She stressed the principles of balance, dominance, rhythm, scale and proportion. In arranging flowers one must choose flowers and accessories according to space, line, form, texture, color, size and pattern. Mrs. Lelyn Nybo explained the rules and regulations for the horticulture entries. Mrs. Mildred Banschier introduced the hostesses.

The Bay-Waveland Garden Club will sponsor its annual Spring Flower Show "Spring Things" April 4, 1-5 p.m. at the Garden Center, 114 Leonhard Ave., Bay St. Louis. The Flower Show will have five divisions: I Design; II Horticulture; III Intermediate Gardeners; IV Educational Exhibit; and V State and National Objectives. Top awards will be as follows: Award of Horticulture Excellence; Arboreal Award; Award of Merit; Sweepstakes Award; Creativity Award; Serendipity Award; Immediate Meritorious Award; and Educational Award. Mrs. Thomas B. Murphree and Mrs. Thomas Tompkins are Flower Show chairman and co-chairman of the event.

Colonial Dames

Installation of officers, Colonel Richard Pace Chapter, Colonial Dames XVII Century, was held March 15 at Grass Lawn, Gulfport. They are president, Mrs. A.J. Gavigan; first vice president, Mrs. C.S. Putz; second vice president, Mrs. V.K. Smith; chaplain, Mrs. D.L. Robertson; recording secretary, Mrs. J.D. Savell; corresponding secretary, Mrs. H.F. Frank. Treasurer, Mrs. E.M. Edwards; registrar, Mrs. J.T. Lee; historian, Mrs. J.L. Martin; librarian, Mrs. Anne Anderson; curator, Mrs. J.W. Backstrom; parliamentarian, Mrs. R.W. Puryear. The program, presented by Murella Hebert Powell, genealogist-in-residence at the Biloxi Public Library and Cultural Center, was a review of the book "Mississippi Gulf Coast, Portrait of a People." Hostesses for the salad luncheon were Mrs. D.L. Robertson and Mrs. Anne Anderson. Mrs. Joe Deason and Mrs. Thomas Mallini were welcomed as new members. The next meeting will be June 21 at Palmer Creek Camp Ground, Saucier.

Diamondhead Garden Club

The Diamondhead Garden Club met Wednesday, March 20 at the Community Center. Garden of the Month chairman, Mrs. Louis Cotton, said the plaque had been given to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Simonsin. Commercial Beautification and Litter chairman, Mrs. George Kollasch, said the commercial plaque had been given to the Purcell Company. She also stressed the need that all neighborhoods be cleaned up for the Pilgrimage on March 22. Conservation and Ecology chairman, Mrs. William Templet, gave tips for saving energy. Pilgrimage chairman, Mrs. Howard Mitchell, reported all was going well with hostesses assigned to each home. Mrs. Clarence A. Evans, Gulf Coast Council Pilgrimage chairman said she had requested ten extra copies of the March 21 edition of the Daily-Herald, which carried news of the Diamondhead Pilgrimage, be placed at the Herald's Bay Bureau office to be picked up by members or owners of homes on the tour. Flower Show chairman, Mrs. Lee Fredian, said a Flower Show committee meeting would be held at her home on Monday, April 8. Flower Show Workshop chairman, Mrs. Jan Brameyer, said that the last workshop would be held March 27 at the home of Mrs. Hillaire Odgen. John Davis, area horticulture agent, would be there to help members identify horticulture specimens they planned to put in the show. Advance entries chairman for the Design Section of the show is Ms. Jean Keen. The club voted to sponsor two children from Diamondhead to the Youth Nature Camp to be held June 25-27 at Holmes State Park. Mrs. R.B. Boatright, club president, announced that the Spanish Trail District meeting would be May 21 at the Gautier Methodist Church. She also announced that new members of the 1985-1987 board of directors for the Garden Clubs of Mississippi included Mrs. Clarence A. Evans, who will be a member of the nominating committee for the Spanish Trail District; Ms. Jean Keen, who will be club yearbook's chairman; and Mrs. William Templet, who will be conservation chairman. Lee Taylor, Hancock County Extension Service Agent, spoke to the club on the "War on Ugliness." He urged members to join the "army" to fight the "battle" to win the "War on Ugliness."

Pass Christian Garden Club

The Pass Christian Garden Club held its regular monthly meeting March 21 at the Hancock Bank Civic Center. The president announced that the annual Flower Show would be held at the Pass Christian Yacht Club. Mrs. R.K. Wallace, Wild Flower Garden chairman, told of the fine work done by her committee preparing for Pilgrimage. The garden was No. 8 on the Pilgrimage brochure, March 21. Mrs. Marvin Johnson reported on the excellent financial results of the luncheon followed by the fashion show presented by the Princess Shoppe Feb. 27. The president asked members to report their spring plantings, stating that a prize would be awarded for the most plantings. Mrs. Clayton Chapman stated she had planted ten pine trees as a starter. The president said she had been advised that a program had been initiated at Beaufort which would install a marker for each tree contributed, and a bench in the name of each donor of $100. The club voted to contribute a bench. She announced that the club's Year Book had been ordered at $7, which, though not prize-winning, was deemed a success. The State Garden Club convention will be held in Biloxi April 16-17 at the Eola Hotel. The meeting closed with an informal creative flower arrangement by the members. A welcome tea was prepared and served by Mrs. William Templet, Mrs. Richard Martin, Mrs. Parrell McGee, Mrs. M. Helen A. Harrison, Mrs. Leon Moore, Mrs. Peter Schmitt, and Miss Jane Northrup.

ETV Brief

STAR GAZING

When comedy writer Douglas Adams gazed up at the stars one night while hitchhiking in Spain, little did he know that he was to turn his fantasy into an award-winning radio series and then into a television series for an international audience.

"The Hitchhiker's Guide to the Galaxy," the TV series based on the radio hit and on Adams' Spanish reverie, will be rebroadcast on Mississippi ETV at 10:30 p.m. Tuesdays, beginning Apr. 2. It was first seen on ETV in 1983 and again last summer.

As the series begins, things are not going well for Arthur Dent (Simon Jones), who has just discovered that his house is about to be demolished by a bulldozer. Not quite prepared to accept this imminent disaster standing up, Arthur lies down in the bulldozer's path and refuses to budge. Along comes Arthur's best friend, Ford Perfect (David Dixon), with the news that the Earth is to blow up in 12 minutes, and almost before Arthur can say "intergalactic space travel," he finds himself on board a Vogon bulldozer spaceship.

Kiln, Waveland libraries offer Story Hour service

The Hancock County Library System will now offer Story Hour at all three library branches.

Story Hour has been provided at the City-County Library in Bay St. Louis every Thursday at 10:30 a.m.

The program will start on Tuesday at 10:30 a.m. at the Kiln Library and Friday at 10:30 a.m. at the Waveland Library.

Story Hour is a program of picture books, films, finger plays and other activities geared to the pre-school child. Children from the ages of three to six may attend.

"We're very happy to be providing this service at every library branch," said Becky Mitchum Keefer, children's services librarian.

"Story Hours are an important way to introduce books and libraries to pre-school children."

Helen Almond, Waveland branch manager, will present the program at the Waveland Library and Veronica Breaux, Kiln branch manager, will present the Kiln Library Story Hour.

For information contact Keefer at the City-County Library, 467-5282; Almond at the Waveland Library, 467-9240; or Breaux at Kiln, 255-1724.

PUBLIC NOTICES "BECAUSE THE PEOPLE MUST KNOW"

STATE OF MISSISSIPPI
COUNTY OF HANCOCK
PUBLIC NOTICE
INVITATION TO BID

To all persons interested in the following described lands in Hancock County, Mississippi, to-wit: Section 16, Township 7 South, Range 18 West, Hancock County, Mississippi, containing 640 acres, more or less.

You are hereby notified that sealed proposals to lease for oil, gas and mineral exploration and development of the above-described lands may be filed with the Superintendent of Schools of the Piquette Municipal Separate School District in Piquette, Mississippi, on or before 7:00 p.m., on the 9th day of April, 1985, and you are invited to submit sealed bids specifying the bonus to be paid by the lessee for said lease. The form of said oil, gas and mineral lease as prescribed by said Board of Education and the terms so prescribed, including the royalty to be retained by the lessor, the annual rental to be paid by the lessee, and the primary term of the lease, is now on file and available for inspection in the office of the Superintendent of Schools of the Piquette Municipal Separate School District, at Piquette, Mississippi, where it may be inspected by all interested parties. The sealed bids submitted will be opened at 7:00 p.m., or as soon thereafter as conveniently possible, on the 9th day of April, 1985, at a regular monthly meeting of the Board of Education for said School District. The Board reserves the right to reject any and all bids but if any bid is accepted, the Board will award said oil, gas and mineral lease to the highest and best bidder in the manner provided by law.

This, the 12th day of March, 1985.

Administrators named for St. Stanislaus

BRO. CELESTINE ALGERO

BRO. ALBERT LEDET

Brother Xavier Werneth, provincial superior of the New Orleans Province of the Brothers of the Sacred Heart, has announced that Brother Celestine Algero has been named president of St. Stanislaus for the 1985-86 school session.

Brother Celestine will replace Brother Mark Thornton, who will remain at St. Stanislaus as director of finances, and will continue to serve as principal of St. Stanislaus.

Brother Xavier also announced that Brother Albert Ledet has been named the religious superior of the Brothers of the Sacred Heart living at St. Stanislaus.

Brother Celestine, a native of New Orleans, La., is the son of Lucille Algero and the late Arthur Algero. He earned his undergraduate degree in 1958 at Spring Hill in Mobile, Ala. In 1962 he received a master's degree in administration and supervision from Loyola University in New Orleans; and in 1975 he was awarded a doctorate degree from Temple University in Philadelphia, Pa.

He has previously served at St. Stanislaus as teacher and director of alumni and development and has been principal of St. Stanislaus for one year.

Brother Albert is a native of Thibodaux, La., and the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Albert Joseph Ledet. He entered the Brothers of the Sacred Heart in 1941 at Metuchen, N.J., and he made his final vows as a brother on July 30, 1950.

He earned his bachelor's degree at Loyola University of New Orleans in 1952. He was then stationed in Metuchen, N.J.; Brooklyn, N.Y.; New Orleans, La.; and Mobile, Ala.

In 1959 he spent nine months in Rome, Italy, where he made the grand novitiate, a specialized study in the spiritual and religious life.

He has been at St. Stanislaus for 26 years, during which time he has served as teacher and prefect of the boarding students. In his new position Brother Albert will serve as religious superior of 38 brothers residing at St. Stanislaus.

AN ANCHOR OF THE SOUL

The Hebrew writer wrote, "Wherein God, willing more abundantly to show unto the heirs of promise the immutability of his counsel, confirmed it by an oath: that by two immutable things, in which it was impossible for God to lie, we might have a strong consolation, who have fled for refuge to lay hold upon the hope set before us; which hope we have as an anchor of the soul, both sure and steadfast." (Hebrews 6:17-19)

The two immutable things are his promise and his oath. Robert Milligan wrote, "We may, I think, safely affirm that God can do anything that is consistent with his own nature, and nothing that is contrary to it. He can create a universe, and he can raise the dead, but he cannot lie or deny himself (II Timothy 2:13) because he is himself the truth absolute. (I John 5:6)"

And hence his promises are all yea and amen in Christ Jesus. (II Corinthians 1:20)

"Heaven and earth shall pass away," says Christ, "but my word shall not pass away." (Matthew 24:35)

Every promise of God is, like himself, absolutely unchangeable. With an oath or without an oath, it remains the same until it is accomplished. (Matthew 5:18)

"No opposing power in heaven, earth, or hell can ever nullify or set aside a decree or promise of Jehovah." (commentary on Hebrews, by Robert Milligan, Pg. 235)

Peter stated, "Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which according to his abundant mercy hath begotten us again unto a lively hope by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead." (I Peter 1:3)

Paul said, "If in this life only we have hope in Christ, we are of all men most miserable." (I Corinthians 15:19)

Jesus has promised to bless us in this life. He said, "But seek ye first the kingdom of God and his righteousness."

And all these things shall be added unto you." (Matthew 6:33)

If we meet the Lord's conditions, he will enable us to have the necessities of life. Many lonely think in terms of this life. Therefore, they are miserable. Worry, fear, adultery, divorce, etc. fill the lives of people who think only of this life.

In Christ we have eternal hope. Therefore, the Christian who hopes in Christ does not yield to the lust of the flesh. He realizes short term pleasure will end in ruin both for now and eternity. He realizes that worry is a waste of time and manifests a lack of faith in God. Love of God toward us and our love to him casts out fear.

John stated, "There is no fear in love; but perfect love casteth out fear; because fear hath torment. He that feareth is not made perfect in love." (I John 4:18)

Paul taught, "For we are saved by hope: but hope that is seen is not hope: for what a man seeth, why doth he yet hope for? But if we hope for that we see not, then do we with patience wait for it." (Romans 8:24-25)

Also he said, "And now abideth faith, hope, and charity. These three; but the greatest in charity." (I Corinthians 13:13)

Faith will be lost in sight when we see the Lord. Hope will be realized when we gain the blessings of heaven. Love will continue forever.

Is your soul anchored in hope in Christ?

EASTER LILIES

"Farmweek" has scheduled a bright, vivid story about this year's showy Easter lilies for a seasonal special to be shown at 7:30 p.m., Monday, Apr. 1 on Mississippi ETV. Much of the footage is tentatively planned to be shot at Collins Greenhouses in Collins, Ms., which is owned by Hascal Collins.

Farm prices, market reports and analyses, national and local agricultural news, weather forecasts, specific timely advice for Mississippi producers and a calendar of upcoming agricultural events in Mississippi are regular features of the weekly "Farmweek" series, which is co-produced by Mississippi ETV and the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service.
